Why RALGRO® implants are making news in feedlot trials!

A recent independent study of finishing steers, sponsored by the makers of RALGRO and the makers of Synovex® implants, now represents the largest, most comprehensive cattle implant trial on record. Research showed cattle implanted with RALGRO first, then reimplanted with RALGRO, to have gained more with greater feed efficiency than any of the other implant combinations tested. In fact, the RALGRO/RALGRO combination's total gain in pounds per head was 12 pounds greater than the Synovex/Synovex implant combination. The RALGRO combination also had better feed efficiency over control animals as compared to the Synovex combination.

Impressive results like these confirm what other studies have shown—RALGRO is the cattle implant of choice for finishing cattle! Contact your RALGRO representative for more information. Or write or call RALGRO, P.O. Box 207, Terre Haute, IN 47808; phone 1-800-457-0871.

WHEN IS INFORMATION INFORMATION . . .

If there is any one thing that our Grate Society has in abundance it has to be what we amilingly refer to as statistics & data, etc. This vast amount of information is stuffed in computers everywhere and not a man alive has any more than a vague notion as to how much there really is stored in memory banks hither & yon.

There is an old sayin' that figgers don't lie, but that liars can figger, and this goes to show you just far afield we can get any time we try to figger somethin' out. This is th' real reason that th' folks we refer to smilingly as Experts and Analysts, and Authorities on given subjects have so much explainin' to do after they come out with their original prognostications.

Elsewhere on this page you will see some of th' fruits of th' mountains of information with which a single department

Fed Cattle Sag, Hogs Sharply Off At Markets Monday

Trading in fed steers and heifers opened slow and lower and the weakness was more pronounced by the time a clearance was accomplished at the central markets on Monday. The program was much the same as it has been most recently weeks as the carcass beef trade opened slow and $1 to $2 lower on very limited activity. It was noteworthy that these markets have begun reporting somewhat larger numbers of yield-grade 4 steers and heifers coming in, these being shown in the low and of the choice and prime prices. Slaughter cows and bulls showed little change at most markets. The

Questions Raised on Quality of Grain in Long Storage

Texas political leaders continued to put pressure on Secy. of Agriculture Block to release supplies of government grain in storage, and alleged to be out of, or going out of condition, for drought feed relief. However, in recent days animal and poultry nutritionists have been raising warning flags concerning the use of some of the grain that is out of condition, and have pointed out dangers involved in feeding it.

As is noted in the grain storage report elsewhere on this page a tremendous volume of this grain is in on-farm storage. There have been earlier reports that insect infestations have been heavy in some of this grain, as well as the possibility it is moldy or has become unsafe because of mycotoxins which can make it dangerous to feed to livestock or poultry.

Some of the grain has reportedly been in storage as long as two to five years and due to heat and humidity has lost much of its nutritional value, as well as having become infested and poisonous. Recently there have been complaints about the quality of the grain awarded to grain farmers in the FIK program. While there are provisions in the FIK program to give larger amounts of lower grade grains, where quality is below specifications, some charges have been made that even so the grain producer is not getting as much money when he sells as he was entitled to receive.

Texas Ag Commissioner Jim Hightower recently had tests run on some of the grain in storage, and reported a far higher degree of deterioration than had previously been reported. It was reported last week that Secretary Block had ordered new tests on CCC grain stocks, but no report has been forthcoming yet.

Poultry feeders have been warned that some of the older grain may discolor broilers and egg yolks. In the case of

RRC Chairman Asks President for National Energy Conference

mission's monthly statewide oil and gas

Comparing the nation's present energy situation to the crisis generated by the Arab oil embargo of 1973, Wallace told the president "I believe we are in an equal - if not worse - situation today." According to Wallace, repeated references to "oil glut" and "natural gas bubbles" have misled the public and the government hasn't realized the seriousness of the situation.

"The fact of the matter is," said Wallace, "at this very moment we do not have enough oil and gas for our own national security." Highlighting the weaknesses in the U.S. energy posture, Wallace noted that the 850 million barrels of oil in the Strategic Petroleum Reserve would only last 10 weeks if foreign supplies were shut off. He also pointed out that although the U.S. has a 95-day supply of gasoline now, disruption in deliveries and spot shortages would crop up as little as three days after a foreign cutoff.

Wallace said Americans can take little comfort from widely-reported import reductions, since preliminary August figures show imports have risen to six million barrels a day. That is only slightly below the 8.2 million barrels a day imported at the time of the 1978 embargo.

Texas oil production, some 30 percent of the U.S. total, has declined almost a million barrels a day from the 1978 level, Wallace told the president.

Wallace said that although the nation's situation in oil is marginal, its posture on natural gas is much worse. The temporary oversupply could be exhausted by 1986, he said, noting that according to a recent study "more than 40 percent of this nation's future gas demand must be supplied by wells which have not yet even been drilled."

Wallace called the failure of Congress to remove gas regulatory shackles and settle political conflicts "a national disgrace."

Much of Wallace's criticism was reserved for the administration's decision to abandon the goal of energy self-sufficiency, a move he called "a mistake with far-reaching consequences."

"It is the same type of mistake made by President Eisenhower when he vetoed legislation which would have freed the interstate natural gas market from court-ordered controls," Wallace said. "It is the same type of mistake made by President Nixon when he implemented federal price controls, and then removed them from everything but crude oil."

Wallace called for the president to convene a bipartisan national energy conference composed of key congressional leaders, federal energy officials, and representatives from energy producing states, the consuming public, and major oil companies and independent producers. He said the conference would outline the steps that must be taken to help secure America's energy future.

"A national consensus must be formulated and decisive action taken," Wallace concluded. "Our children are entitled to a future based on promise and opportunity, not regret and recrimination."

 animal feeding, some of the grain can cause reproductive problems, uneconomical gains and even animal deaths if it is moldy or contains mycotoxins.

Veteran grain trade people say the situation at this time is the worst they have ever encountered due to the long time the grains have been stored and the hot and humid conditions that accelerated the decline in quality. Manufacturers of grain fumigants report sales have been booming for their products to use on farm stored grains. Sales have been reported up during the past year by from 15% to as high as 35% to 40%, for fumigants.

Grain experts say that bad grain requires very special handling and unless precautions are exercised could, in some cases, bankrupt the feeders of livestock and poultry.

Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen urged last week that Secretary of Agriculture

John Block look into an apparent decline in the quality of grain stored in the government and stored in the Texas Panhandle.

"I am concerned by indications that the grain owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation and stored in the Texas Panhandle area may be of substandard quality," Block said in a letter to Block.

"When Texas Department of Agriculture staff recently sampled one West Texas elevator, 50 percent of the 21 million bushels stored there were grade 1, 2 and 3 - the lowest possible grade."

Cawley Ranch Brangus Sale Set November 5

Guest consignors are Escoba Ranch and Ray Moody.

Auctioneer will be Anthony Mihaleki. For information contact J. T. and J. F. Cawley, Rt. 1, El Dorado, Texas, 915/853-2277; or the sale management, Matt and Ann Syler, Rt. 2, Box 85, Burton, Texas 77888, 409/289-4400 or Bob Jackson 314/683-4641.

Grain Sorghum Movement Slow

Austin, Oct. 20 (F-S) - Corpus Christi area grain sorghum: Counties of Live Oak, Bee, Nueces, San Patricio, and Refugio. Comments: Market activity in the area is very slow this week with grain moving at a slow pace. Lower prices this week have again dampened any inclination to sell by area farmers. The Corpus Christi Public Elevator has reopened today according to trade sources.

Prices compared to last week are 25-30 cents lower. Relva received this week have varied from light showings to heaves. Prices range to the former FOB elevator as of 11:00 a.m. Thurs. Oct. 20 is $5.00-5.19 per cwt. #2 grain sorghum.

Central Texas Area grain sorghum: (Counties of Hill, McLennan, Falls, Bell, Milam, Williamson). Comments: Prices this week are barely steady to mostly lower compared to last Thursday. Market activity is very slow to inactive as producers have no desire to sell at the current price levels except when necessary. Some moisture has been received across the region this week but has been scattered in most areas.

Full field preparation, fertilizing, and weeding of some late winter small grains continue to keep farmers busy at this time.

Price range to the former FOB elevator as of 11:00 a.m. Thurs. Oct. 20 is $5.00-5.25 mostly $5.15 per cwt. #2 grain sorghum.

At birth, the hippopotamus weighs about one hundred pounds.

Wool & Mohair

Danver, Oct. 20 (USDA) - Trading in domestic wool very slow as supplies are extremely scarce. Undertone is firm with sales from Utah in the past few weeks mostly 58 to 62's totaling about 1,000,000 pounds, 56's 1.35-1.40, 60's 1.45-1.50, 60's 1.60-1.70, 62's 1.80-1.90. 2.20-2.25 clean basis delivered.

Australian wool markets firm as carding wools but weak on export varieties with the market held down 1 point from last week or 3 points down from two weeks ago at 47¢. Weakness coming from domestic demand and lower quality wool with support coming from the AWC.

Texas mohair limited to clean-up trading under very good demand to cover immediate needs. Some support for spring delivery reported at 10¢ for adult and 7.00 for kid on 60¢ pounds for warehouse greasy wool. Higher prices offered aimed at making most growers hesitant to make commitments.

What's behind the Simmental explosion?

American ingenuity develops a better breed.

You'll want to retain the Brahman strengths of adaptability, calving ease, longevity, heat and disease resistance.

Add the Simmental traits of fertility, milking ability, early sexual maturity, breeding aggressiveness, growth, muscle, feedlot efficiency and desirable carcass quality.

The result -- Simbrah. And that's why they're in demand.

Simbrah: The best of two great breeds.

of the Govmint can be lead astray, this time on the matter of just how much grain we actually have in this country, unless of course you want to include that which is of little or no value and should have been junked.

It is one of our more popular pastimes to argue with and contradict Govmint statistics, or "Staties" as of 'Dizzy Dean used to call 'em. There was more than a smidgen of truth in Dix's version, since quite often Statie is a more apt way to refer to 'em.

Th' sad part of this situation is that some of that grain that has been stored for two to five years in storage places that were ill kept and guarded from damage belong to the Govmint, which means this trash belongs to you & me since we had our tax dollars funneled into it the deal.

While this matter of shoddy grain and worthless grain is before us today it is safe to speculate on just how much other junk & trash is stowed away in other lines of stuff like weapons, vehicles, furniture and buildings that is out of date, out of condition and worse than useless since we are also footing the bills for storage of same.

It does seem that we have enough Burrocrats around & about to keep better tabs on what is going on, but we reckon that would be expecting too much since they can all look forward to another national Holiday durin' what are usually considered business days of the week like Monday.

What we need are a few public servants here and there to mind th' store occasionally.

Ever thine,

P.S.: Uncle Dunk says it does seem America and Americans are entitled to better headlin' of our furrin affairs than has been th' case in recent years. What good is all of this armament if when we get into a hot spot we don't use it? Th' Lebanon situation is a typical example of puttin' a bandage type action to one that calls for real medicine. We think settin' our men up as targets in a shootin' gallery is criminal, so lase. It is worse than criminal to tie their hands and not let 'em blow th' heathens seipin' 'em back into th' Stone Age when we have that capability. Uncle Dunk says one of th' rules we should all have learned is never to start a fight or get in one, unless you intend to win it. — Thassall, Brothers!

Canadians Reject Ban on 1080

Washington, D.C., October 14, 1983 - In a major environmental decision, the British Columbia Ministry of Environment has rejected a plea from environmentalists to ban the use of 1080, a toxicant used in pest control, by the province. Members of the National Wool Growers Association immediately viewed the action as further proof that Compound 1080 should be reapproved for use in the United States.

The decision is a line-by-line refutation of all the bogus claims that have been made by radical environmentalists in the U.S., said Dick Mudd, Chairman of the NWGA's Predator Control Committee.

The environmentalists in Canada are every bit as strict as in the U.S., NWGA Chairman of the Board Norman Rousset said, "yet even the Canadians recognize that Compound 1080 can be used safely and effectively."

The decision, handed down November 12, states in part:

In coming to this decision (not to prohibit Compound 1080), the panel is of the opinion that the predator control program which has been developed by the fish and wildlife branch since 1980 using Compound 1080:

1. Has been proven effective in reducing livestock losses;

2. Is well managed and carefully controlled by the Ministry of Environment officials;

3. Does resolve problem wildlife infestation in a highly selective and slight specific manner;

4. Is more economically feasible and wildlife-specific than other methods of predator control;

5. Is gaining the support of the British Columbia Association of Agriculture;

6. Introduces only minuscule quantities of Compound 1080 into the environment;

7. Was not found to have caused any appreciable adverse effects to man or the environment.

The NWGA, along with other agricultural organizations, has requested that the Environmental Protection Agency re-register Compound 1080 for a ten year ban. EPA held hearings on the toxicant and is expected to make a final decision shortly.

Rousset said it was time for government officials in the U.S. to stop "hurling their hands in their eyes" and get on with their responsibility of protecting livestock resources.

"Predators are more dangerous than 1080," Rousset said, "Maybe EPA ought to prohibit them."

Commodities Comment

Week Ending Oct. 20

The October Messengers continued this week with the futures markets for metals, grains and stock market indexes experiencing sharp losses. The only markets to avoid current bloodbaths has been the livestock markets and cotton. I have mentioned before held at Baton Rouge. Cattle 791. Slaughter cows steady; bulls mostly steady; feeder steers steady-1.00 higher; heifers 2.00-4.00 higher. Slaughter cows breaking utility & commercial 2-3 33.75-37.25; boning utility 1-2 21.75-35.50; cutter 1-2 25.00-32.75; low cutter & canner 1-2 25.25-27.50. Bulls yield grade 1 1025-1420 lbs. 40.25-45.75. Feeder steers: medium frame 1 300-400 lbs. 22.00-23.00; 400-500 lbs. 20.25-24.50. Large frame 1 & 2 300-400 lbs. 21.00-26.00; 400-500 lbs. 19.00-22.50. Heifers: medium frame 1 300-400 lbs. 21.00-26.00. Large frame 1 200-400 lbs. 22.00-24.00. Replacement and/or feeder cows: medium & large frame 1-2 cows 2-4 years old 280-1070 lbs. 38.00-45.00, many 41.00-46.00.

that October is a tough month in which to be a bull. It's not that every October is a "bear" month, it's just that when an October turns out to be bearish it's generally a real killer. Silver prices for example have lost $1.25 over the past 4 days of trading. Soybean prices fell 80 cents over the same period. Technically, there is no futures market anywhere that appears bullish. Most chart services are very bearish and market action is proving them correct. This week the bulls yelled "pant."

In recent days there is continued talk of disinflation and the growing size of the Federal Deficit. Both of these things are very bearish for all markets. Consequently, market psychology is as bearish as I've seen in at least a year. The short interest in the stock market for example, hit an all time record high.

October can be a tough month on the bulls. So far this October will be remembered by the silver and soybean bulls for a long, long time. And - October isn't over yet!

The grain market is locked into a classical confrontation between the fundamentalist and the chartist. The chartist are still calling the grains "bear markets" with lower prices coming. You look at the charts - you can't argue with their analysis. The fundamentalists point to a record soybean use in the September/November period and the continued bullish news from the USDA regarding crop size. Seasonally, soybean meal demands picks up at the factor for bean and corn prices. All heavy commercial and professional trading. The grains look very tired and there aren't too many "bulls" left - it's psychology is very bearish and bears are in total command. At the writing, November beans closed at $2.18, December corn at $2.87 and December wheat at $3.50.

Livestock prices have moved and compared to what's going on in surrounding markets. Livestock prices fell sharply last week and that strength carried over into Wednesday and Thursday trades. What's most interesting about livestock prices is the fact they are acting "bullish" in spite of the huge slaughter (388 on Thursday) hog, and declining grain prices. Feeder cattle futures have actually "led the way up" for the livestock complex. That certainly had to be a surprise!

On Wednesday the live cattle and feeder cattle literally exploded upwards in price. The feeders closed at $1.50 (limit up) and the live cattle much as $1.05 higher for the day. The quality of the buying was not that impressive, but the result is the same - sharply higher. The pork complex continued to be a drag on cattle prices. Heavy slaughter of hogs is trying to put a damper on this week's rally. In this writing, February cattle closed at $6.97, February hogs at 45.70, and February bellies at $5.75.

Which way from here? I'm still friendly to grains. The charts look terrible and prices continue to decline in the face of bullish news. Nearly everyone is bearish and they've been right - so far. I'll stick with the old adage. Buy the breaks, but don't marry your position - use money management stops.

I'm going to be a bull for cattle for the balance of 1983, and into 1984. I've been bearish since spring, but over the past several weeks turned bullish. I'm no less than enthusiastic for pork prices, but cattle prices appear headed higher. The cattle market has shrugged off all the negative news the "bear" could muster, and prices set great. The February cattle option should not be higher into 1984. Treat this market as a trading affair. In other words, don't chase the market, but buy the "breaks". February futures should find excellent support just under the $6.00 level. Let's hope that the cattle market will be "the" bull market of 1984, not about $80-90 cattle by late 1984, not 1985. Just remember, that in commodity trading all things are possible. Jerry Welch, Commodity Specialist, Private Bank Securities, 281 S. Broadway, Suite 1400, Clayton, Mo. 63105.

A Testimonial . . .

"This past winter I used Prorich supplemental feed on my cow herd. I was very pleased with the results. As the cattle came through the winter in better condition than ever before. Notes from SWPA President

By Woodie Talbot

Let's have a big one for the "A" team! The exhibition of Pinzgauer cattle by East Texas and Southwest Region members at Tyler was a credit to the breed, the exhibitors and the associations.

The Fair Associates as well as interested visitors were impressed with the size and quality of the offering, neatness of display and the friendly, cooperative spirit of everyone involved in the show.

A learning experience for all concerned, the pleasure and pride in work well done has strengthened resolve to return next year with added strength and quality.

A review is to be made by a committee concerning procedures necessary to insure smoother performance during the show itself and the rules pertaining to entries in the show. Marie Hooper did an excellent job of putting this year's show together, but more assistance is needed with details.

The membership meeting will be held at Canton on November 5th with visitors invited for a day of visiting, exchange of ideas and lunch before the business meeting begins. All members

Skyview Ranch Sets Pinzgauer Production Sale October 29

Dr. Milton and Susan Graham, owners of Skyview Ranch, have set Saturday, October 29, 1983 at 1:00 p.m. as the date and time of their first production sale.

The Graham's will sell approximately 110 head of outstanding quality Pinzgauer cattle. All cattle have been blood tested, inspected for health status, and tag numbers, and grub treated and sprayed.

The sale cattle will be deep in major Pinzgauer blood lines, including Charlie Brown and Kount, who was the 1982 SWPA champion and the 1983 National Reserve champion.

Skyview Ranch has developed this outstanding Pinzgauer herd through the purchase of top females at national sales, by purchasing a select herd in 1979, and by a very selective breeding program.

The Graham's have actively supported the Pinzgauer cattle breed through attendance at national and local sales and meetings. Also, Susan served for four years as secretary-treasurer of the SWPA.

Skyview will maintain a quality fullblood herd along with their wheat and stocker operation.

Pinzgauer Exhibited At Four States Fair In Texarkana

Several Pinzgauer cattle were exhibited at the Four States Fair held at Texarkana, Texas. In the predominantly Brahman exhibit, the colorful "White Tails" formed a marked contrast.

Pinzgauer exhibited by High Point Ranch stopped a great deal of traffic flowing through the barn. 1983 National Reserve Champion bull, Kount, became the center of attention as the animals petting bull.

In a demonstration of the docility of the Pinzgauer breed, herdsmen David Box and Jessie Thrapp carefully supervised the petting by the children. The smaller children sat beside Kount's nobility back, leaving a lasting impression on the participants, their parents, and the spectators.

Belinda Gariand Gives Discussion At Beafalo Field Day

The Southwestern Beafalo Association sponsored a Field Day and Beafalo Display at Durant, Oklahoma. As part of the Field Day, Miss Belinda Gariand of Estancia, New Mexico was invited to discuss showing and judging of Beafalo animals.

She started showing steers and lambs when she was 6 years old. She has shown at the Terraces County Fair in Estancia, N.M., at the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque, and the Pan American Fair at El Paso, Texas. Miss Gariand is a graduate of Pan American State University. She holds a Bachelor's of Agricultural Business with a minor in Applied Science and a Bachelor's in Animal Science.

She had not seen any Beafalo until before this weekend. She said she really did not know what to expect but was very much impressed with the cattle she saw.

Miss Gariand stressed the areas of characteristics desirable in the selection of show animals, proper feeding and the importance of proper and attractive grooming.

Since Southwestern Beafalo Association is promoting Beafalo as a means of making the public aware of the Beafalo breed, it is believed the membership benefited greatly by the presentation.

Final Plans Set For Fall All Breeds Bull Sale in Sealy

Final plans have been set for the Gulf Coast All Breeds Fall Bull Sale to be held at the Port City Stockyards in Sealy, Texas on October 29, 1983 at 1:00 P.M. Over 85 breeders of purebred cattle have consigned 160 bulls, representing 14 different breeds, to the sale. These bulls will be arriving at Port City Stockyards on Thursday evening, October 27th. On Friday, October 28th, at 1:00 PM, the bulls will be graded using the CBQTA Grading system that was used at our spring bull sale. The judges for this sale will include cattlemen, cattle breeders, and livestock specialists. The bulls must score at least 80.0 from a possible 100 to sell in the sale on Saturday. The public is welcome to attend the grading on Friday. Sales manager, John Joyce, states "The success of our spring graded bull sale warranted a sale in the fall. Many commercial cattlemen in the Gulf Coast area put their bulls out on December 1st for breeding. Therefore, a fall bull sale such as this will give the cattlemen in our area a selection of bulls. All bulls consigned to this sale will be fertility tested and guaranteed by the individual consignors. The bulls will have a test for tuberculosis and brucellosis and will be ready for shipment to any point in Texas. Sales headquarters in the Countrywide Motel in Sealy, Texas located on IH 10 and Highway 36 (409/885-7407). For further information and catalogs contact World Sales, John Joyce, 1107 Cottondale Road, Wharton, TX 77488, AO 409/657-2212 or AC 718/842-2085 (Houston number).

TCFA Convention To Address Strategies For The '80s

AMARILLO - Issues facing the beef industry will be discussed next month by a panel of industry leaders from the nation's three major beef organizations. The panel will assemble during the annual convention of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Nov. 18-19 at the San Antonio Hyatt Regency Hotel. Don Butler, chairman of the U.S. Meat Export Federation, Jim Mullins, chairman of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, and W. J. Waldrup, president of the National Cattlemen's Association, will make up the panel. They will address the topic, "Strategies for Cattlemen in the '80s." Dr. L. S. Pope, head of the New Mexico State University Department of Animal Science, will moderate the panel.

"Many important industry issues will have an impact on cattle feeders in one facet or another," said Jim Peterson, convention manager and TOFA membership director. "The industry's nationwide product promotion campaign, the government's farm programs, the dairy diversion program and other current issues will be discussed during the informative panel session."

Also on the convention program are TOFA President Charlie Koontz who is general manager of Otis Feedyards. He will update convention registrants on 1983 TOFA activities and address what can be expected in 1984.

Other convention speakers include San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros, James Humes, a former U. S. State Department official and presidential speech writer; Dr. Ann McDevine-Cooper, author of several books on creative thinking techniques; and Paul Preston, who will speak on communicating with your customers. A panel discussion on the future of lean beef is also scheduled. Grand Ole Opry star Leroy Van Dyke and his country and western band will be the highlight of the evening's entertainment. Golf and tennis tournaments; tours and special opportunities to get together are planned. The 1983 annual meeting of the Texas Cattle Feeders will be held in conjunction with the TOFA Annual Convention.
